Albany Marathon

The Sixth Albany Marathon & Half Marathon will be on Saturday March 3, 2012. The Albany Club has again been asked to provide communications for this event. Mark your calendar as we will need all the volunteers we can get to support this event. This is always good opportunity to spotlight our club. If you want to see more information on this event, go to: <http://albanymarathon.com/>

If are planning to help please let Bob K4PHE k4phe@bellsouth.net know. If you volunteered last year you will be placed at the same location.

We have 14 Water Stations that need communicators so if you have not volunteered before we can certainly use your help. More information and maps will available later.

FCC Adopts Calm Act Rules To Limit TV Commercial Volume

The Federal Communications Commission has taken what it terms as a major step toward eliminating one of the most persistent problems of the television age. That being those overly loud commercials that the public seems to hate.

On Wednesday, December 14th the Commission adopted a Report and Order that implements the 2010 Commercial Advertisement Loudness Mitigation or CALM Act. That's the statute in which Congress gave the Commission, for the first time, authority to address the problem of excessive commercial loudness.

The rules as adopted require that commercials have the same average volume as the programs they accompany. The rules also establish simple, practical ways for stations and multi-channel video programming distributors to demonstrate their compliance with the new regulations.

The CALM Act rules will become effective one year after the date of their adoption, or 13 December, 2012. This gives those broadcasters falling under the regulation until that date to be in full compliance. Equally important, it provides ample time for programmers and networks to provide their distributors with certifications stating the commercials that accompany their programming are fully compliant with these new rules.

While consumer complaints about loud commercials have diminished since 2009, the FCC expects that these new rules will reduce loudness complaints even further. (Media Network, FCC)

A Big Thank You

We want to thank Roy K4KZO and Joyce K4KZP for their donation of 3 batteries for our club's Emergency Communications Trailer. Thank you both for your continued support of the Albany Club.
